

UNC
COLLEGE OF
ARTS & SCIENCES

Courses in Geography - Fall 2009

Social Geography Seminar: Spatial Practices -- Thinking and Acting Geographically

GEOG804(1)

Tuesdays 5:00-7:50pm
Saunders Hall Conference Room.

This graduate seminar will focus on 'space', 'spatial thought', and 'spatial practices'. The seminar will introduce students to key concepts in spatial thought and practices, locate these in geographical contexts, and evaluate their impact on disciplinary and social movement practice.

We will work through selected texts by, among others, Michel de Certeau, Michel Foucault, Henri Lefebvre, Walter Benjamin, Jacques Derrida, Etienne Balibar, Gunnar Olsson, Derek Gregory, David Harvey, Ed Soja, Timothy Cresswell, Doreen Massey, as well as social movement groups and artists working with conceptions of social space, borders, identities, and practices.