THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

Produced by the Center for Slavic, Eurasian, and East European Studies at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill to assist students with Fall 2005 registration by providing a condensed list of courses offered in various departments relating to Slavic and East European Studies. This brochure is a preliminary listing of courses to be offered. It is not an official publication of the University Registrar's Office, which is the authority for resolution of any discrepancies of errors contained in this brochure.

FEATURED COURSES:

SLAV 167/PWAD 167-LANGUAGE AND POLITICAL IDENTITY

This course will examine the roles of language policy and linguistic controversies in determining national identity and fueling political polarization. It will focus primarily on Western Europe, Eastern Europe, and Central Asia. Topics will include language and identity in the Balkan conflict; re-instatement of local language in USSR successor states; and the effects of language on politics and trade between Western and Eastern Europe. Fulfills the FLAS requirement for West European and East European Studies. Dey Hall 402, Mon./Wed./Fri., 1:00-1:50, Laura Janda.

RUSS 144-FROM DECADENCE TO REVOLUTION: RUSSIAN LITERATURE & CULTURE, 1881-1945

This course will focus on the major works of fin-de-siecle Russian and early Soviet literature. The readings will be in English translations and some in Russian for qualified students. Dey Hall 402, Tues./Thurs., 2:00-3:15, Beth Holmgren
