

Speakers By Name - Christopher Armitage, Ph.D.

Christopher Armitage, Ph.D.

As a University Professor of Distinguished Teaching, Professor Armitage specializes in seventeenth- and twentieth-century English and Canadian literature. He conducts study programs at Oxford University every summer. According to one student, "He is inspirational, humorous, enthusiastic... challenging."

Speech Topics:

- Shakespeare from High Point to Low Point: Contemporary Productions of His Plays
- Voices from the Attic: Canada's Relationship with the United States
- Sir Walter Raleigh: Fortune's Tennis Ball
- The Poetry of Piety: Christian Poems Since 1660

"Dr. Armitage was absolutely great!!! The audience enjoyed him immensely. His sense of humor was delightful; he truly captivated his audience."

UNCW Division for Public Service on Christopher Armitage

Links:

- <http://english.unc.edu/faculty/armitagec.html>