

NCCG Schedule – February 2, 2002
Friday Center, UNC Chapel Hill

8:45 AM	Registration Begins
9:00 AM	Welcome
9:10 AM	On the ordinal number concept in human infancy Elizabeth Brannon Duke University
9:30 AM	When is schematic knowledge used in source monitoring? Julia Spaniol & Ute Bayen UNC-CH
9:50 AM	The cognitive representation of stressful memories Adriel Boals & Kitty Klein Duke University
10:10 AM	Break
10:40 AM	Interrupting mental rotation: What we know when Nathan G. Johnson & Dale J. Cohen UNC-Wilmington
11:00 AM	An ERP analysis of context effects on coreference processing C. Christine Camblin, Tamara Swaab, & Peter C. Gordon Duke University
11:20 AM	The vibrations of texture Sliman Bensmaia, Mark Hollins, & Marcus Johnson UNC-CH
11:45 AM - 12:45 PM	Lunch
12:45 PM - 2:30 PM	Posters
2:30 PM	Navigation in a large environment using a limited working memory capacity Nestor Schmajuk & H. Voicu Duke University
2:50 PM	Can we predict the stock market from decision biases? Christopher Ball College of William and Mary
3:10 PM	Keynote Lecture Elliot Hirshman Pharmacology and the dynamics of recognition memory judgements: Theoretical and applied perspectives University of Colorado at Denver