Fall 2013

Friday, 20 September 2013
4:00 – 6:00 pm • UNC Chapel Hill • Institute for Arts and Humanities • Hyde Hall
ERICA KUHLMAN (Idaho State University)
Transnational Cultures of Mourning: War Widows and Fallen Soldiers in World War I
Co-conveners: Duke-UNC “Gender, War and Culture” Series, and UNC Department of Women’s and Gender Studies

Friday, 18 October 2013
4:00 – 6:00 pm • Duke University • Carr Building • Boyd Seminar Room
LIEN-HANG NGUYEN (University of Kentucky)
Le Duan's Struggles: Toward a New International History of the Vietnam War

Friday, 8 November 2013
4:00 – 6:00 pm • UNC Chapel Hill • Institute for Arts and Humanities • Hyde Hall
MISCHA HONECK (German Historical Institute, Washington, DC)
“For the Preservation of German Honor and Manhood”: Gender and the German-American War for the Union
Co-conveners: Duke-UNC “Gender, War and Culture” Series, and North Carolina German Studies Seminar Series

Sunday, 24 November 2013
5:00 – 7:00 pm • UNC Chapel Hill • Institute for Arts and Humanities • Hyde Hall
KAREN HAGEMANN (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill)
Heroes, Horror and Hunger: The Battle of Leipzig in October 1813 — Experiences and Memories
Co-conveners: North Carolina German Studies Seminar Series

Friday, 6 December 2013
4:00 – 6:00 pm • Duke University • Carr Building • Boyd Seminar Room
THOMAS SHEPPARD (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill)
“To Make an Impression of Our National Character”: Civil-Military Relations and the Tripolitan War, 1801-1805
Co-sponsored by the Triangle Institute for Security Studies