

LARRY W. CHAVIS

Assistant Professor of Entrepreneurship
Kenan-Flagler Business School
University of North Carolina –Chapel Hill
CB 3490, McColl Building
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3490
(919) 962-8215

Academic Appointments

Assistant Professor, Kenan-Flagler School of Business,
University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, NC, 2006 – Present

Visiting Lecturer, Stanford Graduate School of Business,
Economic Analysis and Policy, Stanford, CA, 2006

Education

Stanford University, Graduate School of Business, Palo Alto, CA
Ph.D. Economic Analysis and Policy, June 2006

Cornell University, Graduate School, Ithaca, NY
M.S. Applied Economics and Management, January 2006
M.A. Asian Studies, Concentration: Southeast Asia, August 1997
Full Year Asian Language Concentration-Indonesian, 1994-95

The Johns Hopkins University, College of Arts and Sciences, Baltimore, MD
Ph.D. program in Cultural Anthropology, 1992-1994

Duke University, Trinity College of Arts and Sciences, Durham, NC
B.A. Anthropology, 1992

Primary Fields: Development Economics, Applied Microeconomics, Applied Econometrics

Secondary Fields: Institutional Economics, Personnel Economics, Emerging Markets

Personal: US Citizen, Member Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina

Honors and Awards

PhD Fellowship, Stanford Graduate School of Business, 2001-2006
Taube Fellowship, Stanford Institute for Economic Policy Research, 2006
Shultz Graduate Student Fellowship in Economic Policy, 2005
Summer Research Fellowship, John M Olin Program in Law and Economics, Stanford Law School, 2003
State University of New York Graduate Fellowship, 1999-2001
Cornell Sage Fellowship for Minority Students, 1995-1996
Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowship, 1994-1995
Graduate Studies Fellowship, The Johns Hopkins University, 1992-1994

Working Papers

“Decentralizing Development: Allocating Public Goods via Competition”

“Consumer Boycotts: The Impact of the Iraq War on French Wine Sales in the U.S.” (with Phillip Leslie)

“Firms, Bureaucrats, and Organized Crime: An Empirical Examination of Illicit Interactions”
(Summary appears in the 2005 Global Corruption Report, Transparency International, London, 2005)

Additional Writings

“Bribery”, International Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences, 2nd edition, Primary Ed. William A. Darity, McMillan (in progress).

Co-edited with Pablo Zoido Corruption Research Section in 2004 Global Corruption Report, Transparency International, London, 2004.

“Tourism in Indonesia after the Bali Bombing”, Intellibrige Information Service, February 2003.

Presentations

2006: Northeast Universities Development Conference, Duke University Dept. of Economics, University of Minnesota Humphries School of Public Policy, Tufts University Dept. of Economics, Georgia Tech University Dept of Economics, Case Western Reserve University Weatherhead School of Management, Federal Reserve Bank of Boston

2005: University of California Berkeley Dept. of Economics, Cornell University Southeast Asia Program,

2004: American Economic Association Pipeline Conference, Stanford Law School Law and Economics Program

2003: State Owned Enterprise CEO Briefing Jakarta, Indonesia

1994: Johns Hopkins University Atlantic, History, and Culture Seminar

Relevant Professional Experience

Financial Aid Counselor, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY 1997-1999

Account Executive/Sampling Consultant, Survey Sampling, Inc., Fairfield CT, 1997

Additional Information

Refereeing: International Tax and Public Finance, Journal of Economic Literature

Professional Memberships: American Economics Association, Association for Asian Studies

Languages: Native English speaker, Proficient in Indonesian

Stanford Graduate School of Business Thesis Committee and References

Prof. John McMillan (primary advisor), Stanford Graduate School of Business, Phone: (650) 724-4549

E-mail: mcmillan_john@gsb.stanford.edu

Prof. Peter Henry, Stanford Graduate School of Business, Phone: (650) 723-0905

E-mail: henry_peter@gsb.stanford.edu

Prof. Phillip Leslie, Stanford Graduate School of Business, Phone: (650) 723-8382

E-mail: leslie_phillip@gsb.stanford.edu