Team Participation Survey (Confidential)

In any team project it is normal that individual contributions differ, with some people contributing more effort, knowledge or good ideas and other people less. Usually in a team most members contribute more or less in an acceptable, normal range. In this survey you are invited to evaluate the contributions of members of your team, including yourself. I expect that most students contribute some fair amount to the team project, so that the contribution of most team members will be rated NORMAL RANGE. If one of your teammate contributed substantially less than expected of him/her, check BELOW EXPECTATION. If a teammate contributed substantially more than expected, "beyond the call of duty", check ABOVE EXPECTATION.

To complete the survey do the following:

1. Circle your own name on a hard copy of the survey
2. For each team member including yourself check the column corresponding to your score
3. Return the completed survey to Ari Berenbaum
