Occupation is what makes OT a unique profession. It is our most powerful tool for improving lives and building function. Here are some publications and presentations to occupational therapy and interdisciplinary audiences that:

- promote occupation centered practice
- bridge occupational science and occupational therapy concepts
- support the occupational therapy practice framework

Occupation-Centered Practice

Occupational Science & Linking Occupational Science and Occupational Therapy

OT Practice Framework

