HARVARD BUSINESS SCHOOL

The Negotiation, Organizations and Markets (NOM) Unit

Tenure Track Positions

The Negotiation, Organizations and Markets (NOM) unit at the Harvard Business School is seeking outstanding candidates for tenure track positions. We are looking for candidates at the assistant and (nontenured) associate professor level. The NOM unit is involved in the study of negotiation and conflict resolution, incentives, the motivation and behavior of individuals in organizations, and the design and functioning of markets. We have an emphasis on economic and behavioral perspectives with empirical, theoretical, and experimental methodologies.

The NOM unit is interdisciplinary and has approximately 20 faculty members with backgrounds in economics, psychology, organizational behavior, negotiations, finance and general management. We are responsible for staffing a variety of elective courses in our MBA and executive education programs as well as short required courses in "Negotiations" and "Economics of Markets." The main areas of research of NOM faculty include: Organization Economics, Negotiations, Organizational Psychology and Sociology, Agency Theory (Compensation, Incentives and Corporate Governance), Human Resource Management, and Experimental Economics.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

Applicants should send vita, letters of recommendation, and research papers by December 1, 2003.

CONTACT:        Professor Nancy Dean Beaulieu
Mellon Hall A4-5
Harvard Business School
Soldiers Field Rd.
The Robinson College of Business at Georgia State University invites applications and nominations for the position of Chair of the Department of Risk Management and Insurance.

JOB DESCRIPTION:

The Chair of the Department of Risk Management and Insurance (RMI) in the Robinson College of Business is responsible for providing academic leadership for the department's degree programs, which include undergraduate, master's and doctoral degrees in RMI and Actuarial Science, master's programs in Personal Financial Planning and Mathematical Risk Management, and its related research and executive education activities. As head of a department of 23 full-time faculty that includes economists, financial economists, lawyers, and actuaries, the Chair is responsible for the department's budgetary, personnel, and curricular decisions and serves as liaison to the business community and alumni.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS:

The ideal candidate will have earned a doctorate in economics, finance, actuarial science, statistics, or mathematics and have a record of scholarly publication in the area of risk (broadly defined) to warrant a tenured appointment at the rank of Professor. The candidate will lead a nationally ranked program actively engaged in leveraging its traditionally strong RMI programs to meet the educational and research demands of the rapidly changing risk management profession.

UNIVERSITY, COLLEGE AND DEPARTMENT:

Georgia State University, located in downtown Atlanta, is the largest urban university in the southeast. The university serves approximately 28,000 students. The Robinson College of Business, the 8th largest AACSB-accredited business school in the U.S., offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs (MBA, specialized masters, and Ph.D. programs) as well as a... spectrum of executive education and public service programs. In the most recent U.S. News and World Report, the College's part-time MBA program was ranked 5th in the nation. Since 1953, the College has been home to the largest and one of the most respected risk management and insurance programs in the world. U.S. News and World Report recently ranked it as the #2 RMI program in the nation - a position it has held consecutively since 1999.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

The starting date is on or about July 1, 2004. Salary will be competitive and consistent with qualifications. Applications and nominations should be submitted electronically to:

Email: MAILTO:kbernhardt@gsu.edu

CONTACT: Dr. Kenneth Bernhardt
